BY SPRING OF 1991, PT. ADMITS TO HAVING EXPERIMENTED WITH APPROXIMATELY 800 DIFFERENT DRUGS BUT DOES NOT REMEMBER THEIR NAMES. MEANWHILE, THE TOTAL AMOUNT BORROWED CONTINUED TO ESCALATE. VISUAL HALLUCINATIONS OF PIECEMEAL NECROSIS, KIMMELSTIEL-WILSON BODIES, AND GLIOBLASTOMA MULTIFORME OCCURRED AT THIS TIME.

RECTAL BLEEDING FIRST BECAME NOTICEABLE IN SUMMER OF '91 AS PT. BEGAN PURCHASING STOCK IN THE NMS SERIES BOARD REVIEW BOOKS. PT EXPERIENCED ANOREXIA AND INSOMNIA AT THIS TIME. A SYNCOPAL EPISODE HAD OCURRED IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING BOARDS PART I, AND PT. NOTICED BRBPR AND ADMITS TO MASSIVE ETOH INTAKE.

PT. CONTINUED DOWNHILL OVER THE NEXT YEAR WHILE EXPERIENCING MULTIPLE SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, INTIMIDATING ATTENDINGS, AND THE REALIZATION THAT ONE WILL NEVER KNOW AS MUCH AS A NURSE. DURING THIS TIME PT. ALSO C/O EPISODES OF APHASIA, MENTAL MASTURBATION, AND FINALLY APATHY ESPECIALLY DURING ROUNDS.

PT.'S CONDITION IMPROVED IN JULY OF '92 UNTIL PT. WAS ADMITTED TO HUH FOR STAT BEEPER IMPLANT. PT. THEN WENT THROUGH 4 WEEKS OF CLASSICAL CONDITIONING, LOSING BLADDER CONTROL UPON HEARING A BEEP. DURING THOSE 4 WEEKS PT. ALSO EXPERIENCED SOME MANIC EPISODES ESPECIALLY WHEN CALLED AT 3 A.M. FOR A GLUCOSE OF 110.

PT. SUSTAINED MORE RECTAL BLEEDING S/P BOARDS PART II BUT WAS SOMEWHAT MORE TOLERANT ALMOST SEEMING TO ENJOY THE RECTAL TRAUMA.

IN THE WINTER OF '92, PT. DECIDED TO SEEK FURTHER HELP AT OTHER HOSPITALS. DURING THESE VISITS, PT. SUSTAINED BOUTS OF BOWEL INCONTINENCE, AND EPISODES OF BRIEF REACTIVE PSYCHOSIS WHEREIN PT. WAS FREQUENTLY HEARD SINGING "MATCHMAKER, MATCHMAKER, MAKE ME A MATCH." DURING ONE VISIT, PT. WAS ASKED TO GIVE 3 PHRASES TO DESCRIBE ONESELF, HE SAID: "MARGINAL PASS, REGULARLY IRREGULAR, AND I BEAT BUD IN TETRIS."

OVER NEXT 6 MONTHS, PT. IMPROVED DRAMATICALLY BUT EXPECTS A RELAPSE IN SUMMER OF '93.

HAHNEMANN UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

Hahnemann University, a private, nonprofit institution founded in 1848, is a progressive academic health center dedicated to excellence through the provision of higher education, health care, research, and community service.

Located in center city Philadelphia, Hahnemann has a total complex of 11 buildings containing modern state-of-the-art facilities. The clinical center of the University provides tertiary care and has a 616-bed hospital.

Over 2,000 students are enrolled in programs of study offered by the School of Health Sciences and Humanities, Graduate School and School of Medicine. The University attracts a varied coeducational student population from numerous ethnic backgrounds and origins. The overall setting of the School of Medicine within a major academic health care center offers students an opportunity to develop an understanding of the roles and responsibilities of each member of the health care team.

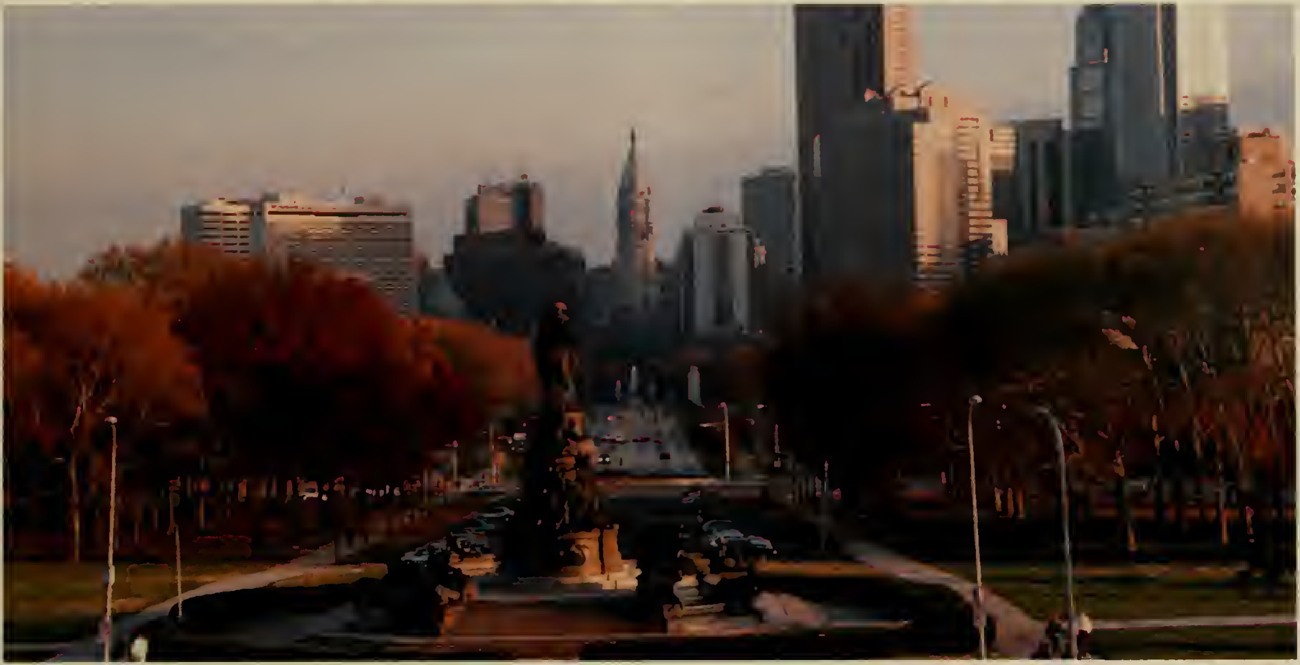
PHILADELPHIA

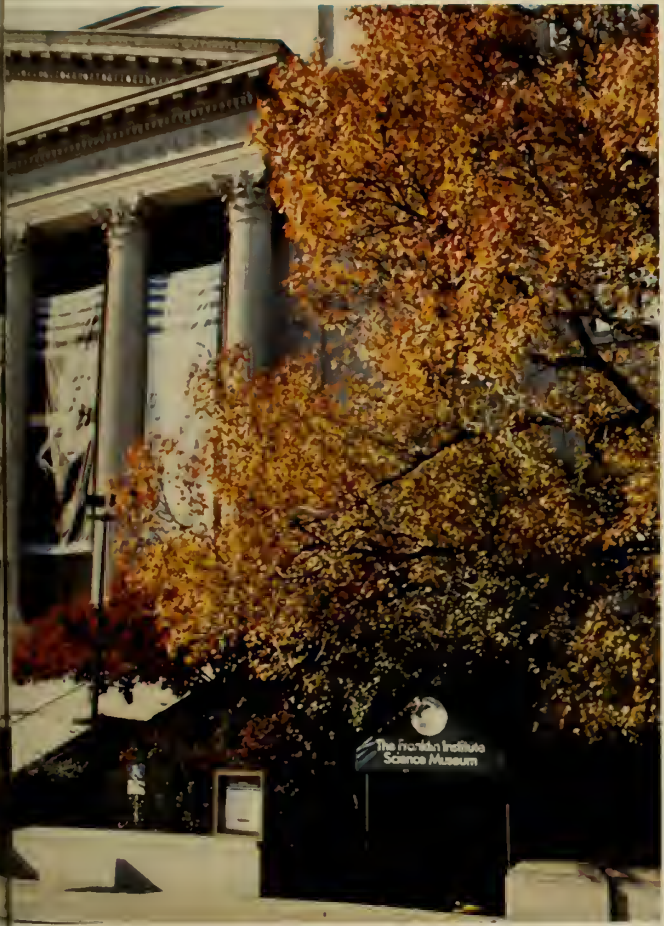
Philadelphia was founded in 1682 by William Penn, an English Quaker. King Charles II granted Penn a parcel of land in the New World as payment for a debt the Crown owed Penn's father. The city grew rapidly, becoming the second largest English-speaking city in the world just before the American Revolution. Philadelphia was the Revolutionary War capital, except for nine months of British occupation. The first continental Congress met at Carpenters Hall in 1774. The second State House, later renamed Independence Hall, declared independence in 1776. In 1786, from May 25 through September 17, the Constitutional Convention was held at Independence Hall. Philadelphia served as the fledgling nation's capital until 1800.

Philadelphia is the second largest city on the East Coast and fifth largest in the country. City population is estimated at 1.68 million. The metropolitan population is about 5.78 million.

AMERICA STARTS HERE!!



READING TERMINAL MARKET



The Franklin Institute
Science Museum

Colonial Philadelphia comes alive in a stroll through historic Old City's Society Hill and Queen Village cobblestoned neighborhoods or on a ride in a horse-and-buggy carriage. Penn's Landing on the riverfront offers visitors a leisure spot for cultural fairs and history. A visit to South Street opens doors to unique ethnic dining and shopping expeditions. Many students take time to visit Philadelphia's excellent cultural and scientific institutions: The Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Rodin Museum, the Academy of Music, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the Port of History Museum, the Maritime Museum, the Franklin Institute Science Museum and the Pennsylvania Academy of Natural Sciences, to name a few. Students frequent some of the many shopping sites in center city: The Gallery (Philadelphia's three-block indoor shopping mall), the Reading Terminal Market (an indoor "Farmer's Market" which features fresh produce and exotic foods from around the world) and the Shops at Liberty Place.

CLASS OF 1993

Hahnemann University School of Medicine seeks to admit persons from a wide spectrum of experience and backgrounds with the goal of obtaining a heterogeneous group of mature, thoughtful and dedicated students. The School particularly encourages applications from members of cultural and economic groups underrepresented in the medical profession who possess the motivation and aptitude for the study of medicine.

general appearance

The Class of 1993 is a group of young adults who appear awake, alert - in the presence of attendings - and oriented times three, except when post-call. Most are well developed mentally, but physically, some show signs of thiamine and folate deficiency. These young doctors appear to have periods of confusion, fear and paranoia, but, most likely will be in NAD after match day.

SUCCESS

"To laugh often and love much;
To win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children;
To earn the approbation of honest critics and to endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty;
To find the best in others;
To give of one's self;
To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or redeemed social condition;
To have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation;
To know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived;
This is to have succeeded."

From childhood, I would look down the long corridor of life and I could see a flame meekly glowing in the far distance. It was a sign of hope in the future, for love and happiness.

I was driven by a dream that someday I would reach that flame and be able to build it into an external blaze. I have finally reached it, but it is in the form of warm sunshine and a beautiful rainbow. It is my wonderful husband, Craig.

God said, first of all
Make her woman:
Let her create
As no man can.

Hand her a brass chalice
And call it Youth, spilling
Its pure content,
Prodigally willing.

Fashion her legs lean,
Steel to slice the clean
Water through, with Grace,
Swiftly to the main stream.

Mould an iron heart
Open to Love,
Lest I labor this cast
In vain above.

Give her leaden hands
The quick of Life
To soothe the scarred child
Laid low in strife.

And in the crucible of Pain,
Fired to high rising pressure,
Drop one dear
Teardrop of treasure:

Place on her brow, now,
Small and high the diadem
Of golden Wisdom,
Lately come.

And so God made her,
In all her hours,
Slowly, inexorably, purposely
Imperfectly, yours.

The Tides of Life

At the beach when the tide is going out, the waves recede and it seems that nothing is happening in the sea. But the truth is that great swells are gathering strength beneath the waters, building energy for the time when the tide will return

It's similar to times in our own lives when something we have depended on is gone and we are left with a feeling of emptiness and sadness.

At times like this we can take heart, knowing that an unseen strength is building within us. And if we can only be patient, relying on a sure faith, the tide of life will turn and happiness and fulfillment will once again return to us.

I love you with all my heart and soul. Without you all my hard work and success would mean nothing. I promise to continue to show you how much I love you for you are my heart, my world, my life. The future is ours together, always.

To MOM and DAD

Without your love, support and understanding, I couldn't have made it. You have always been there when I needed you. You are very very special and I love You very much.

PROMISE YOURSELF

To be strong that nothing can destroy your peace of mind.
To make all your friends feel there is something in them.
To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true
To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best
To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own
To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

The Man in the Glass

When you get what you want in your struggle for gain
And the world makes you King for a day
Just go to the mirror and look in the glass
And see what that man has to say

It isn't your father or mother or wife
Who judgment upon you must pass
The one whose verdict counts most in your life
Is the one staring back in the glass

He's the one you must satisfy beyond all the rest
For he's with you right up to the end
And you have passed your most difficult tests
If the Man in the Glass is your friend

You may be one who got a good break
Then think you're a wonderful guy
But the Man in the Glass says you're only a fake
If you can't look him straight in the eye

You may fool the whole world down your pathway of years
And get pats on the back as you pass
But your final reward will be heartaches and tears
If you've cheated the Man in the Glass

Dear Members of the Class of 1993,

On behalf of Hahnemann University and its Board of Trustees, I want to extend best wishes to each of you for achieving your goal and dream to become a physician. Your medical education, training, and experience as a student at Hahnemann form the foundation for the career that lies ahead for you.

Now, you are entering the medical profession at a challenging time. The present environment has implications that will affect the way you do your work as clinicians who practice medicine, teachers who train other physicians and health care professionals, and researchers who explore the yet-unsolved mysteries of medicine.

President Clinton has pledged to the American people that he will deliver health care reform to guarantee universal access to affordable health care. We, as leaders of an academic health center, and you, as future health care professionals, must support and endorse the need and ultimate aims of such reform. And we must assist in seeking the appropriate means to carry out this reform as responsible members of society.

I hope that, as you pursue further studies and work in your chosen field, you will retain the vision and the values of Hahnemann University. We, in turn, will remember the contribution each of you has made to this institution and will look forward to following your career successes with pride.

Sincerely,

Iqbal

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST

Dear Colleagues,

May I offer my sincerest congratulations to all members of the Class of 1993 upon the completion of the requirements for, and the receipt of, the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

The receipt of the MD degree is the beginning of a life of incredible opportunity. It offers you almost unlimited opportunities for career choices, all of which can be immensely rewarding. Many of you will complete residencies and enter the practice of medicine. Others will end up as biomedical research scientists and educators, and still others will become administrators, health policy gurus, science reporters and perhaps even novelists. And the opportunity to develop second careers in mid-life always exists.

No matter what career you choose, however, the receipt of the MD degree is only a beginning. In any of the many vocations open to you there will be a need, even an obligation, to continue to learn, to continue to contribute new ideas, and to continue to improve the human condition.

I wish you all well.

Sincerely,

John R Hogness

DEAN, SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Dear Doctors,

Please accept my best wishes as you enter the next phases of your medical careers. I hope that you will treasure your years at Hahnemann as part of a strong foundation of knowledge and experience, and that these years will serve you well in your many achievements and successes.

Sincerely,

ARLISS "BUD" HEFFLIN
HAHNEMANN UNIVERSITY

At some point during medical school, every student has had to depend on Bud Hefflin - whether it was for help with a mailbox which wouldn't open, advice on how to approach Hahnemann administration, or to get a beer at Friday MSI happy hours. There are few at Hahnemann who have shown as much interest in and concern for students than Bud. He is a superb organizer and advocate for students.

Many don't realize Bud's breadth of involvement here. He has been an advisor for noteservice, yearbook, student life, and MSI, organizer for Blue and Gold, Holiday, Halloween, and St. Patrick's parties, and representative at graduation, academic affairs and student life meetings. His consistent presence and easy approachability have made him a continual favored recipient of the Golden Apple Award.

Despite many changes in the political climate at Hahnemann, Bud has been a consistent supporter of students and our interests. With Bud's assistance we have maintained our option to have an independent noteservice, attained an interim student life center, published many yearbook editions and kept the privilege of having champagne at Match Day. He has been invaluable in helping to plan many student activities, especially involving events at the Warwick Hotel.

All this seems like enough depth, but it probably only hits the surface. The journey through medical school is arduous at best, pure hell at its worst. The diversion of student life helps us to remember that we too are human and it enables us to rejuvenate our more refined side (you may remember it - it was there four years ago). In short, Bud Hefflin has been a tremendous asset to Hahnemann and a good friend to all. Thank you for the memories Bud!! We will miss you!

To the Class of 1993 -

There comes a time in everybody's life when things must change. That time is now for you. You are about to embark on the most exciting, enjoyable and productive journey of your life. Thank you for all the memories and good times during the past four years at Hahnemann. You have made my job much more enjoyable and I have made some lifelong friends. So here it is, a toast to you, the Class of 1993. Best of luck in all your endeavors and please stay in touch.

God Bless,
Bud Hefflin

---Mom and Dad

Have a happy life!

---Mark and Susan Richardson

To Libby Blankenhorn:
You were the first person I met at Hahnemann and you put up with four years of me here. Thanks for your advice and patience and offering me that safe haven up on the tenth floor when I needed it. A little piece of this M.D. diploma belongs to you.
---Ron Aryel

With much deep gratitude, I wish to thank all of the members of my family, and especially my parents, for their many sacrifices, unwavering encouragement and constant inspiration to accomplish all that I have. My achievements are as much a credit to each of you as they are to me. You are all indeed the wind beneath my wings.
---Thomas N. Bottoni, MD

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyle:
Thank you for your constant support and love through the years. I am who I am today because of you.
---Love Always, Sheila

---Carol and Warren Jacoby

To Martin Dawson:
I am proud of you. I know where all the big Xmas gifts will come from. - G. / I am proud that you are graduating and hope every day is as happy as for today is. - J. / Maybe sometime can you sleep over and can I come to your Dr. office. - A.
---Gabrielle, Joshua, Anady

To David Scott:
How glad I am we met and fell in love first year! I love you always.
---Amy P.

Dear Marc and Sue,
It was a lot (that's two words) of work but we're finally finished! I can't believe the three of us are still talking to each other. I'd like to say it was all fun, but you guys know better. Have a fantastic summer. Don't ever change. If you do, I know it will be for the best. Best wishes,
---Greg

To my Parents, Sister and Brother-in-law:
Thank you, Mom, Dad, for your love and unflagging support without which medical school would have been impossible. Thank you likewise, Shireen and Mike for helping me out with my projects and laughing at my jokes and being there.
---Ron Aryel

To Ali:
Thank you for all the laughter, support and encouragement you have given me through the years. My happiest memories of Hahnemann will be of you.
---Love, Sheila

To the Whole Boyle Family:
Who endured my endless stories and supported me through the years. Thanks to all of your for the laughter and the memories.
---Love, Sheila

To Andrea:
Thanks for being nice to me, even if I didn't always deserve it!
To My Parents:
Thank you for all the encouragement, support and love.
To My Buddies in the Class of '93:
It would have been boring without ya.
---Dan Gottschall

To my Mother and Father:
Thank you for always being there for me and for all the love, support and strength you have given to me. You are wonderful parents and I love you both very dearly.
---Hana M. Laznickova

To Mom and Dad:
Confidence, love, respect - you have given me so much. I always have you with me. Thanks for getting me here in one piece and for never questioning me in my path to doctor-dom. I love you.
---Amy

To Larry, Carol Anne, Trish, Sean, Joana, Tommy, Monique, JJ, Larry, TJ, Jessica, Katelyn, Robbie, Matthew, Charles, and Kristin
Thanks for your unbridled support & love. I love you back & more.
---Amy

Dear Tom,
Please bring back all the money you embezzled (NOT!). The IRS is watching you! Thanks for arranging the ads. It only took us 3 days to figure out what you did. Do ABG's hurt?

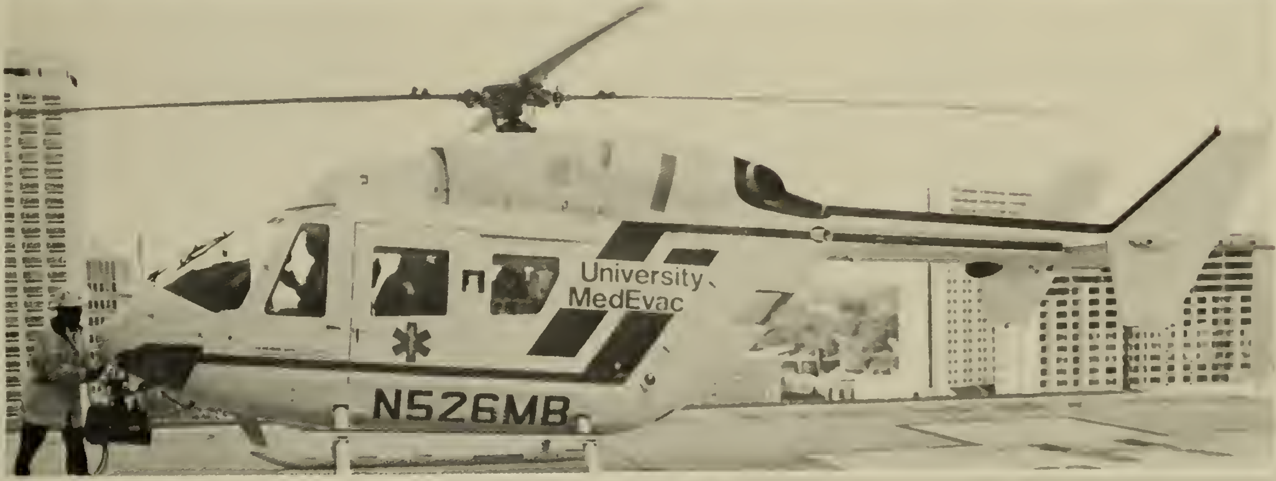
FROM THE
MEDICAL STUDENT
INSTITUTE

(Sponsors of this Yearbook)



We're moving right along! From the horse-drawn ambulance of the 1890's to the 1912 Packard to the University MedEvac helicopter . . . we have been bringing our patients in style . . . to the best possible care available. In the 1890's it was antiseptic surgery, tender care and concern . . . today it is MRI and transplants and monoclonal antibodies . . in 2000 what will it be?

You will provide the answers. You have been educated to move medicine into the 21st century, to develop the techniques and the materials for even better health and to provide them always with the same care and concern.

Take with you our admiration
And our best wishes as you advance in your profession.

Easton Hospital Residency Programs

University Affiliation.
As a major teaching affiliate of Hahnemann University School of Medicine, Easton Hospital is the site for regular third year medical and surgical rotations; fourth year medical and surgical electives; and internal medicine, surgery, and transitional year residencies of outstanding quality.

High Passing Rates.
Easton residents pass their examinations! In addition, Easton Hospital has an outstanding record for placing graduates in quality subspecialty programs.

Hands-On Experience.
Our dynamic combination of "learning by doing" plus excellent supervision brings results: our graduating surgical residents were recently rated better than the 90th percentile in the number of complex surgical procedures performed.

Patient Diversity.
The wide variety of clinical pathology diagnosed and treated at Easton Hospital's state-of-the-art facility is comparable to that experienced at university centers. Most of our patients are diagnosed and treated first at Easton Hospital, not after evaluation elsewhere.

Excellent Practice Opportunities.
Young physicians seeking to start a practice find the metropolitan area surrounding Easton a "land of opportunity." The Lehigh Valley offers an attractive environment, a rapidly growing professional population, low unemployment and proximity to NYC and Philadelphia -- ideal for establishing successful medical practices.

Let Easton Hospital show you how our programs can help prepare you for a successful and fulfilling career.
Call the Director of the Department of Medicine, (215-250-4013) or the Director of the Department of Surgery, (215-250-4014).

ODE TO MATCH DAY

It is match day today, and graduation is near
So let's all have a good time and spread some cheer
Four short years ago we came to HU from all over the U.S.
Some from the east and some from the west
And as far as I could see
We were all in pursuit of that elusive M.D.
Study! Study! Study! said the administrative hordes,
"How the hell else are you going to pass the boards?"
For those who get through all the histo, physio, and anatomy
You then get to pick your favorite specialty
Anesthesia? Medicine? Ophtho? OB?
Path? Rads? Psych? Surgery?
No matter where your career leads, one thing is true
We would all like to make as much money as Iqbal Paroo.

Dear Members of the Class of 1993,

It is with excitement and deep pleasure that I have watched you all through your four years of medical school, from those days back in '89 in Histo lab to your senior rotations. Each class develops a personality sooner or later, yours sooner than most, as its members struggle with the new challenges so unlike those of undergraduate school. Your class became a very cohesive unit, strong willed, interactive, outgoing, and committed to achievement and one another. We learned from you and your fresh ideas and I hope you learned from us as well.

This next step in your careers is as equal a challenge as the one you took as you matriculated here at Hahnemann. You are all ready for this challenge and will be the leaders in medicine in this changing world of health care. Your future patients will be fortunate to have your ministrations, a combination of your skills, concern, and empathy.

I wish each of you the very best and hope you will keep in touch with me and your University; our door will always be open to you.

Sincerely,

Sue Zarro

IN APPRECIATION

Many people have touched our lives over the past four years here at Hahnemann. However few have done so on such a consistent basis as Dr. Suzanne Zarro. As many in the class of '93 can attest, Dr. Zarro has been there for us, since the early days of histology and anatomy, as a friend, colleague and mentor.

On a yearly basis, Dr. Zarro and her husband Dr. Vince Zarro, have an "open house" Thanksgiving feast in which they invite any student who does not have a place to go for Thanksgiving or those students who could not make it home for the holiday. This is just one example of Dr. Zarro's kindness, generosity and friendliness.

Of course, all of the class knows Dr. Zarro through the second floor Dean's office, where she was in charge of preparing our dean's letters and guiding us through the entire match process. She was always there to talk, to give advice or the just lend an ear. She made the whole process less frightening and more bearable.

It is for these reasons that the class will honor Dr. Suzanne Zarro with the Golden Apple Award, the award given to the one person we as a class feel has done the most for us during the past four years.

We feel that we have learned much from Dr. Zarro, not only anatomy and histology, but also how to be a caring, kind, generous physician as well.

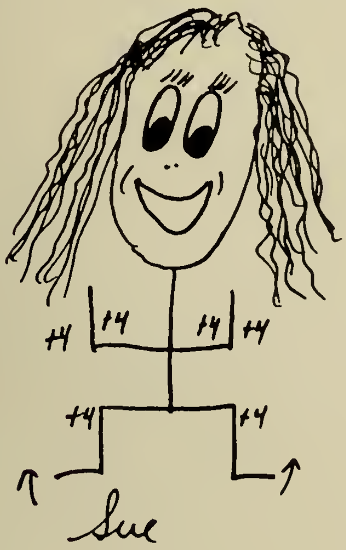
Thank you, Dr. Zarro, for being a wonderful teacher, role model and friend.

The Class of '93

editors' NOTE

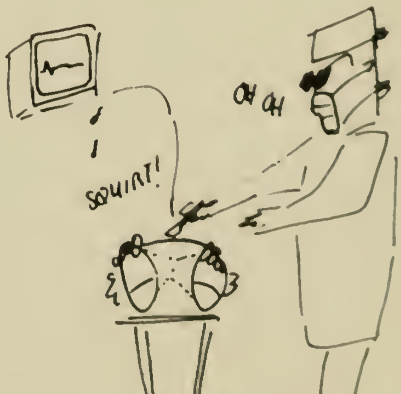
Ok, first off, congratulations you guys. We did it! We are the Hahnemann Class of 1993. The yearbook staff wishes all of you the best of luck.

As editors, we have had the opportunity to provide this overview of some of the best times and some of the more harrowing experiences during the last four years or so. As much as we are soon to reach the all insurmountable status of the physician, we should remember that we are all still mortal and, like our patients, are entitled to have our times of troubles and illnesses as well as joys and health. Our yearbook theme, the patient's chart, was a means to address some of our chief complaints, to show the people involved in our care throughout medical school and to show how successful we all have been despite the many hurdles we have encountered (ie, ICM, Boards part I and II, the match . . .). The final diagnosis, the M.D., is our ultimate achievement. This yearbook is part of our life history. May this be a reminder of our presence at Hahnemann in its "golden years".



It is true we now walk away with the M.D. after our name. But at what expense? Sure, there was a little GI distress and subsequent anemia, graying hair and other sequellae of stress - nothing a little maalox and an evening at Doc Watson's couldn't resolve. Yet, the monetary debt we incur is real and has its residual deficits that effect our decisions on what and where we practice. The American Association of Medical Colleges reports that the average graduating medical student indebtedness in 1990 was $46,224 with 31.6 percent having a debt in excess of $50.000. This first of all presents as an obstacle to any bright college student (sucker) who may consider medicine as a career. Moreover, this debt surely influences the rise in popularity of the more financially satisfying specialties (surgery); thus, taking away from the number of general practitioners that our country needs and shifting our practices to the cities (L.A.), leaving the rural areas (Erie) underserved. Perhaps if our great new leader (Hillary) Clinton wishes to control health care costs and increase accessibility, (s)he should start off by making medical education more affordable.

By the time you read this we will all be tucked in somewhere in our residency programs. Do take time to look back through the years and remember that we did have a social life at one time. We hope you all enjoy this as much as we had fun producing it. We apologize for any ill humor; it was all made with good intentions. Don't let this affect any referrals to us in the future. Please keep in touch and always keep the Hahnemann spirit alive.



CIAO!
